WTO, China and Hong Kong

China's entry into the WTO may change Hong Kong's role as an intermediary center of trade and transshipment. A large portion of U.S. agricultural exports to Hong Kong is currently transshipped into Mainland China. In 1999 Hong Kong was the largest export market for U.S. poultry shippers.

Hong Kong Re-Exports to China of Major U.S. Meat and Poultry (in US$ million)

			*2000-2004
	Imports	Re-Export	Percent	Import
	from U.S.	to China	Re-Exported	Tariffs
Chicken	516	351	68	20 - 30%
Beef	51	3	6	45 - 12%
Pork	4	1	25	20 - 12%

While Hong Kong's share of China's imports may dwindle by half, the total volume is expected to expand significantly enough that Hong Kong's absolute volume of re-exports to China could remain near the current high levels for many years to come. Hong Kong will likely continue in its current financial role for at least five years after China's entry into the WTO for several reasons. It remains difficult for privately owned companies in the mainland to open letters of credit. Hong Kong companies have established financial reliability. Hong Kong has a "western-style" legal system with the rule of law and enforceable contracts. Finally, the Chinese Renminbi is still not convertible outside of China.

Hungary

Poultry production in Hungary increased about five percent in 2000. This trend continued into the first half of 2001 and total poultry sales were eight percent above the same period in 2000. Sales of duck more than doubled, turkey increased 20 percent, but chicken sales grew only 4.6 percent.

Strong exports, increasing domestic sales and reduced feed prices point to further growth in the poultry sector in 2001/2002. Germany and Austria are the biggest market with the EU. With 6,000 - 7,000 metric tons in annual purchases, the FSU countries buy less than five percent of Hungary's exports. According to the Hungarian Poultry Board, the July 2000 trade liberalization deal between Hungary and the EU may have positive results on Hungary's poultry exports. Hungary received a 102,000 Mt duty free quota from the EU and opened a 15,000 Mt import quota for poultry coming from the EU. The quota will automatically increase 10 percent next year. Much of the quota is reserved for whole chicken, which is not traditionally a competitive Hungarian export. In March 2001 the Hungarian Government increased export subsidies for poultry by HUF 10/kg (USD 1=HUF 280). The strong Hungarian currency is hurting the competitiveness and the industry is asking for yet more subsidies.

NATIONAL YOUNG TURKEY PARTS AND BULK MEAT, FROZEN (UNLESS SPECIFIED), CENTS PER LB., DELIVERED FIRST RECEIVERS, PART AND FULL TRUCKLOTS AS OF 17 AUGUST 2001.

Seller sentiment was steady to fully steady on fresh tom breast meat, yet, some buyers have no problems filling needs resulting in a mostly steady buyer sentiment. The undertone was mixed on frozen tom breast meat with some processors noting buyer bids at lower trending price levels. Fresh tom breast meat demand was moderate for the uneven offerings, frozen light. Trade sentiment was generally steady on fresh destrapped tenderloins and mixed on frozen. Destrapped tenderloin demand ranged slow to moderate with fresh the most active. Offerings of destrapped tenderloins ranged from light on fresh to mixed on frozen and being held with varying degrees of confidence. Trading centered on light volumes of fresh tom breast meat for domestic shipments and on tom drums for export.
